22 I, Benjamin Heston, declare as follows:

1. I have personal knowledge of all matters stated herein. On all matters stated on information and belief, I believe those allegations to be true. I could competently testify to the allegations contained herein.
2. I have represented Ms. Doublet in all of her bankruptcy cases.
3. Her first bankruptcy case that was filed in January of 2020 was dismissed at the confirmation hearing that was held on the same day as the 341(a) hearing due to a few clerical errors and an omitted creditor.

1 4. In her second bankruptcy case that was filed in January 2021, the Chapter 13
2 Trustee indicated at the 341(a) hearing that they would be recommending
3 confirmation of her plan with a much higher payment than what was proposed. I
4 advised my client that she passed the Chapter 7 Means Test, and could therefore
5 convert her case to Chapter 7, receive a discharge, and re-file a Chapter 13
6 afterwards. Ms. Doublet followed my advice and things went according to plan
7 without any issues at all.

8 5. In the Chapter 13 case that was filed after the Chapter 7 case closed, the Trustee
9 again indicated that they would be recommending confirmation. In this instance,
10 the payment that the Trustee was recommending was significantly less due to the 11 Chapter 7 discharge.

12 6. In February of 2023, a few weeks before the scheduled Confirmation Hearing, the 13 Chapter 13 Trustee filed a motion to dismiss due to the Debtor falling behind by 14 one payment. I spoke with my client who informed me that her payroll
15 department paid her late, which caused her to make her Chapter 13 payment
16 accordingly late. She promptly remedied the delinquent payment and informed 17 me of such. On February 21, 2023, I reached out to Bridget Kelly from the 18 Chapter 13 Trustee's office to let her know that the payment had posted and 19 asked if they would be withdrawing the motion. She said that she would check
20 and get back to me later. Before the Trustee was able to withdraw the motion, the 21 Court entered an order dismissing the case.

22 7. Undeterred by this setback, we refiled her case approximately 2 weeks later. After 23 the 341(a) hearing, the Chapter 13 Trustee again indicated that they would be

24

1 recommending confirmation under payment terms that fit comfortably within
2 Ms. Doublet's budget.

3 8. In May of 2023, my client informed me that she was in an auto accident that 4 resulted in her car being totaled, and that she would need to finance a new
5 vehicle. I told her to shop around and get back to me with proposed loan terms.
6 After she was not having any success, we filed a Motion for Authority to Incur
7 Debt which requested a very general order in the hopes that a lender would 8 accept this. Shortly thereafter, the Court issued a Scheduling Order which 9 requested that the Debtor file a supplement with loan terms. The Scheduling
10 Order further indicated that the Court could not approve a loan that extended
11 beyond the 60th month of the Chapter 13 plan.

12 9. I relayed the contents of the Scheduling Order to my client and sent her off again
13 to see if she could obtain a loan that was less than 5 years. She went to Rock
14 Honda in Fontana and had someone in their finance department call me. I spoke 15 to this person who informed me that it would be next to impossible for Ms.
16 Doublet to obtain a loan prior to her confirmation hearing. He further indicated
17 that if Ms. Doublet were to apply for a loan, not only would it be rejected, but she 18 would also be locked out from reapplying for a period of at least 60 days.

19 10. On July 6, 2023, the Court held a hearing on the Motion to Incur Debt. I
20 informed the Court of what I had been told by the finance department. The Court 21 acknowledged these difficulties and seemed to indicate that the best course of 22 action would be to dismiss the case, purchase the vehicle, and then refile. The 23 Court stated:

24 “Well, I mean, another option is just to dismiss the case and she can refile.”

1       “So, you know, you've got a couple of different options here. You can... I'll
2       dismiss the case if you want. And then, without a bar, she can refile...”

3       “You can request a dismissal. You've got all your options. Think about it.”

4       “Again, I think you could dismiss today, right, and go out and get the 5       financing and just refile.”

6       “Honestly, I mean, I'm not telling you what to do, but dismissal almost 7       sounds like the best option under these particular set of circumstances.”

8       “Think about it. I mean, you know how to get the case dismissed if that's 9       what you want.”

10      11. I relayed this information to my client. Accordingly, we filed a request for 11       voluntary dismissal which was granted on July 11, 2023. The same day, Ms.
12       Doublet was able to purchase a vehicle. If I had known that this dismissal would 13       raise any sort of a negative inference, I would have advised her to try and find a
14       reasonably safe junker and get past the confirmation hearing scheduled for 4
15       months later.

16      12. Shortly after Ms. Doublet purchased her new vehicle, we refiled. I had a software
17       issue that caused her case to be filed twice (this also occurred in another Chapter
18       13 case that I filed around the same time, Maximo Arturo Arriola, 6:23-bk-
19       14028-SY and 6:23-bk-14029-SY). The Court issued a Notice of Duplicate Case
20       which indicated that the present case number was to be used for all further 21       purposes. A true and correct copy of this is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

22

24

1 13. On May 9, 2024, I went on the Trustee's online account access and downloaded
2 the tables which are attached hereto as Exhibit B. This information was used to 3 prepare the tables that are included in the Debtor's declaration.

4 14. I have gotten to know Ms. Doublet fairly well over the years and she has always 5 struck me as an honest and determined person. I regularly hear from her when 6 she informs me on a monthly basis that she timely made her plan payment, and 7 on holidays when she checks in to wish me and my family well. Now so more than 8 ever, I wholeheartedly believe that she will be able to successfully complete her
9 Chapter 13 plan, and I do not have the slightest doubt that she is motivated to see
10 this through, regardless of whatever life has in store.

11 15. I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the 12 foregoing is true and correct.
